

Directions from Union Station to the EQR Users Group meeting, September 29-30, 2003, at the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), 888 1st Street, NE, Washington, DC.

From Union Station - Washington DC's railway and subway station - proceed to the Station's west side exit which empties onto 1st Street, NE. (If you exit from the front of Union Station, turn right and walk straight ahead. The first street that you reach is 1st Street, NE).

Turn right and proceed north on 1st Street, NE—away from the U.S. Capitol dome. FERC is two blocks north on the left, directly beyond a new office building under construction.

Give yourself enough time to be successfully processed through FERC's Security checks. All visitors must go through a metal detector and have their bags x-rayed.

Hotels

A search of Expedia.com provided the following six hotels near FERC:

- Phoenix Park Hotel
- The Hotel George
- Washington Court Hotel
- Holiday Inn On The Hill
- Best Western Downtown Capitol Hill
- Hyatt Regency - Washington DC

Because of FERC's proximity to the Washington Metro subway system, you may wish to stay farther away from the FERC building (Downtown DC, Crystal City or Rosslyn) and use the subway (Union Station exit on the Red Line).